Income verification

Civility Music requires written verification of your monthly income such as pay stubs, income tax return or AFDC form. We also require written verification of extraordinary expenses such as a bill, receipt or check stub. If you do not have this information when you register, the regular fee will be charged. You must bring in verification no later than the second week of classes or otherwise full fee tuition will apply.

If you have an extraordinary monthly expense (i.e. medical/dental cost), please make an appointment with the Registrars to discuss this matter at a later date.

The information, which I have provided above, is accurate and complete. I agree to notify Civility Music if there is any change in my income or expenses, which would affect my eligibility for the sliding scale discount.
